

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing the reference letter for Ms. Sumari Gildenhys. Ms. Sumari worked in our school as a Year 2 homeroom teacher teaching all primary subjects, writing lesson plans, setting and marking test papers, assessing the students (Formative and Summative assessments) and also leading the After-school Art club for all year groups in the primary school.

Ms. Sumari is an enthusiastic and very positive teacher; she had a good sense of humor, very attentive to the students she taught, dedicated and hard working. She planned her lessons very well using different resources and activities. Her lessons were highly differentiated and engaging. Ms. Sumari has a good classroom management. She is a fair but very firm teacher. She worked well with her colleagues; parents and her students. She is a team player. She can work alone and take an initiative while also fitting in working as a team.

Ms. Sumari loves Art, she had excellent ideas to share with colleagues. One lesson observation that we conducted in her class (Myself and the Head of Science & Math), Ms. Sumari's lesson observation judgement was 'Very Good'; the lesson was well planned, pupil behavior in the lesson and class management of them was good; resources and activities were differentiated with visual resources to support teaching and learning used.

Although I worked with Ms. Sumari for a short time, she presented herself as a hard-working, cooperative, enthusiastic, and flexible teacher who was happy to receive constructive guidance in her teaching; open to support and easy to work with. Her time management is very good. She is a happy person and loves working with children.

I wish her all the best in her next teaching role.

Yours faithfully,
Ms. Vuvu Gaxela
