

December, 2015

Sumari Gildenhuy's has stepped into a vacant position on my staff, to help me out temporarily during the past year.

Due to a desperate need, I contracted her, well knowing that her gift mix and experience did not suit the requirements for the job at all. She surpassed all expectations and was an amazing asset to our team.

Firstly, she created a very warm atmosphere of cohesion at the office amongst the staff members. She is a cheerful positive person, always wanting to make people feel special. All the people from all walks of life that we generally engage with felt accommodated, valued and were served with excellence by her. I believe she would therefore make a very dedicated team player on your team.

Secondly, she showed commitment of the highest calibre. She never shied away from crises management and worked tirelessly at monotonous work. She is certainly willing to go the extra mile.

Thirdly she is well respected because of the set of values that she lives by. She is someone with integrity, a high sense of responsibility, thoroughness, sincere empathy and a strong drive to make this world a better place.

I am totally convinced that she would meet all your expectations if her gift-mix would suit your requirements.

I highly recommend her.

Yours Truly,
C J Carstens
